Date: 11/11/2021

What we are working on

We are currently working on the wireframe and the TOR diagram, and plan to have them done by this weekend.

By next Thursday, we plan to have created an API, as well as files for each of the classes we intend to use. The functions used by those classes don't necessarily need to be fully written by then, we just want to have the classes initialized.

What has been done

Most of the documentation has been completed. We also have a mockup of the battle system using an Excel spreadsheet, which will be used to inform how we go about building the system in the actual code.
